1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Invitation to participate

The moderators of rec.radio.broadcasting (RRB) invite the participation of broadcast professionals and non-professionals alike. Both the people who operate radio stations and the people who listen to them have valuable insights into the art, business, and/or science of broadcasting.

1.2 Charter

Rec.radio broadcasting is intended as a worldwide forum dedicated to the discussion of subjects pertaining to domestic radio broadcasting. By the term "domestic," we mean radio which is intended basically for reception within the country in which it originates. Other Usenet groups are available for discussing international broadcast services.

1.3 How to submit articles

You can use your newsreading software to submit an article to rec.radio.broadcasting as you would to any other newsgroup. The only difference is that your news server will automatically forward your article to the moderation team instead of posting it directly to the group. Alternatively, you can email submissions to rec-radio-broadcasting@panix.com. We generally turn around articles at least the same day, usually much faster.

2. ACCEPTABLE AND UNACCEPTABLE TOPICS

If you are ever unsure about whether a proposed topic is appropriate for RRB, please feel free to ask the moderation team at:

rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com

2.1 Newsgroup focus

RRB is designed to provide a public forum for professional and informed discussion and dissemination of information pertaining to the art, business, and science of radio broadcasting. By "professional and informed," we mean discussions by broadcast professionals as well as those with a serious interest in radio broadcasting. As mentioned in the Introduction, we welcome the participation of radio listeners as well as those inside the industry.

RRB is an international newsgroup, so the term "domestic" should not be taken to imply just the United States or North America. Readers in other nations are encouraged to post questions and comments about their own country's radio stations.

2.2 Examples of acceptable topics

Generally, if a subject would be of interest to broadcast professionals or listeners, it is acceptable. Here are just a few ideas for discussion topics:

* New stations and changes to existing stations (but see section 2.6 for limitations on discussions of unlicensed stations)
* Formats and programming
* Equipment and techniques involved in the transmission and reception of broadcast radio signals
* Other engineering and technical matters
* Domestic broadcast-band DXing
* Community broadcasting
* Legislation affecting radio stations
* Radio's current and future trends
* Job openings and help to those seeking work in the industry

If you post about a local radio station or personality, please realize that most RRB readers will know little or nothing about that station or person, so please include a little background to set the context for your remarks.

2.3 Examples of unacceptable topics

This is not a comprehensive list. Please contact the moderation team if you aren't sure whether your proposed topic is appropriate or not.

* Non-domestic stations and activities (BBC World, Voice of America, SWLing, etc.)
* Non-broadcast radio services (amateur, Internet, satellite, etc.)
* Television broadcasting (except on rare occasions when the subject of the posting would also be of broad interest to radio people).

2.4 Programming discussions

Because the intent of RRB is to foster discussion, postings of a primarily promotional nature should be kept to a minimum. Program hosts and other interested parties are welcome to submit brief notices about special guests, fill-in hosts, etc. However, playlists, weekly program schedules, and similar listings should instead be posted in a more appropriate venue, such as the station's or host's website.

Reviews of the performance of on-air personalities are fine, but please note that rec.radio.broadcasting is not the place to discuss the topics of radio talk shows. (Unless the topic itself is the art, science, or business of radio broadcasting.)

Postings about broadcasters' off-air activities should usually be confined to events that are that are related to their broadcast career, such as personal appearances on behalf of their station. Exceptions will be made for extraordinary events such as a broadcaster's death.

2.5 Commercial postings

Businesses and individuals today have a wealth of online selling venues--both general sites such as eBay and Craigslist, and region-specific Usenet groups such as ba.broadcast and uk.tech.broadcast. Therefore, RRB may not be the most effective place to post your for-sale ad. It's best when you want to offer an item that's likely to be of interest to broadcasters or radio fans over a broad geographical area. Please consider the alternatives before submitting your posting to RRB.

Examples of suitable for-sale postings might include, "My station just got a new mixer and is selling its old Acme Model 100; please contact me directly for details," or "I just found a box of KHJ aircheck tapes in my basement; drop me a note if you're interested in buying them."

For-sale message must solicit responses directly to the poster; do not direct readers to another site such as Craigslist or eBay.

Notices about especially important or interesting new products are fine. Please disclose whether or not you have a financial interest in the manufacturer or reseller you're mentioning.

Each poster to RRB is allowed one commercial posting per month.

Postings about job openings are welcomed. Be sure to include your real name, company name, and valid contact information (email address, phone number, or mailing address).

2.6 Pirate radio

Postings about unlicensed domestic radio operations should be limited to discussions of their history, notices of enforcement actions, discussions of technical conflicts between licensed and unlicensed stations, or strictly informational messages (such as, "A pirate station has been heard in Chicago on 104.7"). Postings that seek to support pirate stations (such as by drawing money, personnel, equipment, or listeners) will not be approved.

2.7 Moderation policies

Questions or complaints about moderation decisions or policies will not be permitted in the newsgroup itself. Please direct any such feedback to the moderators by sending us a message at rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

If you see an obviously inappropriate article in our newsgroup, please assume that it was a mistake or a direct forgery, and do not send follow-up postings. You may submit feedback to the administrative address regarding such articles, although it is likely that our monitoring software and procedures have already detected the problem and we are actively handling it.

3. NETIQUETTE

3.1 Introduction to Usenet netiquette

Participants who are new to Usenet should familiarize themselves with the "netiquette" of Usenet as well as the particular posting guidelines for this group. Several useful posts for "newbies" can be found on the newsgroup news.announce.newusers or on the World Wide Web at:

http://www.faqs.org/faqs/by-newsgroup/news/news.announce.newusers.html

Particularly helpful articles are:

- Welcome to Usenet!
- Rules for posting to Usenet
- Hints on writing style for Usenet
- A Primer on How to Work With the Usenet Community
- Emily Postnews Answers Your Questions on Netiquette
- Answers to Frequently Asked Questions about Usenet

3.2 Civility

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to state their own views and share their experiences enthusiastically. However, in doing so, you should maintain a civil tone in all postings and treat other people respectfully.

You are welcome to criticize someone else's actions, but such criticism must not degrade into a personal attack or name-calling. To be safe, refrain from making assumptions about the motivations of other people. For example, "That's a lie" implies an intentional prevarication, and "So-and-so is a liar" is name-calling. Instead, say "That's not true, because...," or "I think that So-and-so is wrong because..."

Making fun of someone's name or refusing to refer to them by their proper name is also a violation of this guideline. In cases where someone uses a different on-air name, please use that name unless they have specifically said that it's all right to refer to them publicly by their real name.

Note that this guideline covers everyone you talk about in your postings, whether they are participants in this group or not.

3.3 Posting form

Any article that falls into any of the following categories will be automatically rejected:

A) Articles that contain original text of more than 75 characters per line (except for URLs; see sections 3.7 and 3.8)
B) Articles that are crossposted other than as described in section 4.1)

C) Articles that contain more than 400 lines
D) Postings that contain attachments (except short .sig files; see section 3.6)
E) Postings that include encoded binary files (except PGP and other short digital signatures)
F) Articles containing obscene language
G) Articles from individuals who have been suspended or banned from the newsgroup
H) Articles that consist mostly of direct quotation from copyrighted sources (also see section 3.7)

3.4 Excessive quoting

Posters must show a reasonable effort to trim the post they are replying to. Replies should include just enough of the original material to establish a context for your own comments.

Posts more than 20 lines long that have more than 50% quoted text will be carefully reviewed by a moderator to determine whether that degree of quoting is warranted. Posts with excessive quoted text may be rejected.

IMPORTANT: If you use a newsreader (such as Google Groups) that allows you to hide the posting to which you are replying, you must unhide the quoted text and trim it appropriately. Also be certain that your newsreader is not configured to automatically append the previous article to the bottom of your postings. All participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are responsible for using their newsreaders properly to comply with the group's posting guidelines.

"Me too!" posts are discouraged. If you do post such a message, you must edit the quoted material significantly.

3.5 Pseudonyms

Contributors to rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to use their real (given or on-air) names. This not only creates a greater sense of community in the newsgroup, it also lends credibility to posters' opinions. However, as a pragmatic concession to the realities of the present-day Internet, and consistent with the practices of other moderated newsgroups, pseudonyms and unroutable email address are permitted with some restrictions.

We ask that the From: lines of submitted articles not misrepresent your identity, not be changed often, and not match a user or domain name other than your own (spoofing). Postings that have a pseudonym that violates any of our other rules (such as civility) will be rejected.

Please realize that if you use an unroutable email address, you will not be able to receive acknowledgment or rejection messages for your submitted articles. If one of your articles was rejected and you are unable to receive the notice that explains the rejection, you will need to send a note to the moderation team for clarification.

3.6 Signature files

Many people close each article they write with a few lines of common text. This may be a clever quote, contact information, or disclaimer required by their employer. Signature (.sig) files attached to rec.radio.broadcasting postings must be no longer than four lines plus a standard delimiter (such as two dashes).

The content of a poster's signature need not be relevant to broadcasting, but it must not violate any of the other posting guidelines. (For example, name-calling that would not be acceptable in the body of a message is also unacceptable in a signature.) Posters may include Uniform Resource Locators (URLs) and business addresses in signature files, provided they comply with all the other guidelines regarding signatures.

3.7 Use of copyrighted material

Unless you own the copyright yourself or have the written permission of the copyright owner (either of which must be so stated), do not post copyrighted material such as newspaper articles to rec.radio.broadcasting. Instead, post a synopsis of the material with a link to the full article. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing.

Quoting of public domain information, such as radio station information from the FCC database, is fine.

3.8 Pointers to outside sources

Unsolicited announcements and pointers to web sites that are exclusively advertisements or other public relations campaigns are not permitted. However, a pointer to a website or other external source of information is permitted and encouraged in cases where it is relevant to an existing thread, with appropriate context being given in the post.

A URL with no information about what a user should expect to find there will be rejected. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing. Also, we prefer full URLs instead of (or in addition to) ones that have been modified by a link shortener so that readers of the posting will know which website they are actually going to. If you do use a link shortener, please also indicate the full name of the website to which you are linking.

A pointer to information that is off-charter for rec.radio.broadcasting will be rejected, as will a pointer which itself does not meet the rec.radio.broadcasting guidelines (such as a URL containing name-calling).

Moderators are not responsible for verifying the contents of any external information source. Moderators only review submissions for adherence to the RRB guidelines, such as appropriateness of topic and Usenet etiquette.

4. TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES

4.1 Crossposting

A limited amount of appropriate simultaneous crossposting will be permitted at the discretion of the moderation team. Appropriate crossposted newsgroups could include rec.radio.noncomm, ba.broadcast, ba.broadcast.moderated, or alt.radio.broadcasting. Currently, a limit of 3 newsgroups total is enforced by our moderation software.

Please note that, because of the way moderated Usenet groups work, any posting submitted to a moderated group will not be forwarded to any other groups until it is accepted by the initial group. For example, if you submit a posting to both RRB and BAB, and we reject it, it will never appear on BAB.

4.2 Valid "From" address

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting may, if they wish, use an invalid or "munged" email address in their "From" header line. However, please be aware that if you do so, you will be unable to receive messages from the moderators, such as requests to revise submitted postings or explanations of why postings were rejected.

Also, we want rec.radio.broadcasting to promote interaction among participants, and in some cases, information is more appropriately relayed off-list. If you do not provide a valid email address, other posters will not be able to send you information, ask questions, etc. Therefore, if you are considering using an invalid "From" address in order to avoid spam email, we recommend that you instead (1) find an ISP with robust spam-filtering for incoming email, and/or (2) obtain an email address just for your Usenet postings (e.g. from Yahoo or Gmail).

4.3 Lost or rejected postings

We never reject anything in silence, and we make a point to answer all our mail. However, newsgroup postings can and do get lost every now and again.

If you send us a posting and you neither see it in RRB nor hear from us directly within two or three days, you can be pretty sure that either your mail never reached us, or that our answer never reached you. (See section 4.2 for why the latter might happen.) In that case, please submit your article again. (We will filter out duplicates.) You're also welcome to send a note to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com if you have any concerns about your submissions not being received.

If you have any questions or comments about these guidelines, please send a message to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

(Adapted from the rec.radio.amateur.moderated posting guidelines and from Bill Pfeiffer's original RRB guidelines and FAQ.)

Radio broadcasting, as pointed out by Contextuall, is perceived by the market to be in its death throes. However, it appears advertisers have not caught on to this story because broadcasters, relatively speaking, seem to still be achieving huge cash flows.

Greetings.

This is a friendly reminder that it's strongly recommended that you use a valid email address when posting articles to ba.broadcast.moderated or rec.radio.broadcasting.

In the event that the moderation team finds it necessary to reject a post, the rejection notice will be sent to the email address from which the post was sent. If that address isn't valid, and your post has been rejected, you won't get the rejection notice.

This is equally true of "munged" addresses as well as invalid or made-up domains.

If your posts don't show up and you're wondering why, this is one of the very first things to consider. The obvious solution is to resubmit the post using a valid, reachable email address.

Thank you,
The moderation team for ba.broadcast.moderated and rec.radio.broadcasting

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Invitation to participate

The moderators of rec.radio.broadcasting (RRB) invite the participation of broadcast professionals and non-professionals alike. Both the people who operate radio stations and the people who listen to them have valuable insights into the art, business, and/or science of broadcasting.

1.2 Charter

Rec.radio broadcasting is intended as a worldwide forum dedicated to the discussion of subjects pertaining to domestic radio broadcasting. By the term "domestic," we mean radio which is intended basically for reception within the country in which it originates. Other Usenet groups are available for discussing international broadcast services.

1.3 How to submit articles

You can use your newsreading software to submit an article to rec.radio.broadcasting as you would to any other newsgroup. The only difference is that your news server will automatically forward your article to the moderation team instead of posting it directly to the group. Alternatively, you can email submissions to rec-radio-broadcasting@panix.com. We generally turn around articles at least the same day, usually much faster.

2. ACCEPTABLE AND UNACCEPTABLE TOPICS

If you are ever unsure about whether a proposed topic is appropriate for RRB, please feel free to ask the moderation team at:

rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com

2.1 Newsgroup focus

RRB is designed to provide a public forum for professional and informed discussion and dissemination of information pertaining to the art, business, and science of radio broadcasting. By "professional and informed," we mean discussions by broadcast professionals as well as those with a serious interest in radio broadcasting. As mentioned in the Introduction, we welcome the participation of radio listeners as well as those inside the industry.

RRB is an international newsgroup, so the term "domestic" should not be taken to imply just the United States or North America. Readers in other nations are encouraged to post questions and comments about their own country's radio stations.

2.2 Examples of acceptable topics

Generally, if a subject would be of interest to broadcast professionals or listeners, it is acceptable. Here are just a few ideas for discussion topics:

- New stations and changes to existing stations (but see section 2.6 for limitations on discussions of unlicensed stations)
- Formats and programming
- Equipment and techniques involved in the transmission and reception of broadcast radio signals
- Other engineering and technical matters
- Domestic broadcast-band DXing
- Community broadcasting
- Legislation affecting radio stations
- Radio's current and future trends
- Job openings and help to those seeking work in the industry

If you post about a local radio station or personality, please realize that most RRB readers will know little or nothing about that station or person, so please include a little background to set the context for your remarks.

2.3 Examples of unacceptable topics

This is not a comprehensive list. Please contact the moderation team if you aren't sure whether your proposed topic is appropriate or not.

* Non-domestic stations and activities (BBC World, Voice of America, SWLing, etc.)
* Non-broadcast radio services (amateur, Internet, satellite, etc.)
* Television broadcasting (except on rare occasions when the subject of the posting would also be of broad interest to radio people).

2.4 Programming discussions

Because the intent of RRB is to foster discussion, postings of a primarily promotional nature should be kept to a minimum. Program hosts and other interested parties are welcome to submit brief notices about special guests, fill-in hosts, etc. However, playlists, weekly program schedules, and similar listings should instead be posted in a more appropriate venue, such as the station's or host's website.

Reviews of the performance of on-air personalities are fine, but please note that rec.radio.broadcasting is not the place to discuss the topics of radio talk shows. (Unless the topic itself is the art, science, or business of radio broadcasting.)

Postings about broadcasters' off-air activities should usually be confined to events that are that are related to their broadcast career, such as personal appearances on behalf of their station. Exceptions will be made for extraordinary events such as a broadcaster's death.

2.5 Commercial postings

Businesses and individuals today have a wealth of online selling venues--both general sites such as eBay and Craigslist, and region-specific Usenet groups such as ba.broadcast and uk.tech.broadcast. Therefore, RRB may not be the most effective place to post your for-sale ad. It's best when you want to offer an item that's likely to be of interest to broadcasters or radio fans over a broad geographical area. Please consider the alternatives before submitting your posting to RRB.

Examples of suitable for-sale postings might include, "My station just got a new mixer and is selling its old Acme Model 100; please contact me directly for details," or "I just found a box of KHJ aircheck tapes in my basement; drop me a note if you're interested in buying them."

For-sale message must solicit responses directly to the poster; do not direct readers to another site such as Craigslist or eBay.

Notices about especially important or interesting new products are fine. Please disclose whether or not you have a financial interest in the manufacturer or reseller you're mentioning.

Each poster to RRB is allowed one commercial posting per month.

Postings about job openings are welcomed. Be sure to include your real name, company name, and valid contact information (email address, phone number, or mailing address).

2.6 Pirate radio

Postings about unlicensed domestic radio operations should be limited to discussions of their history, notices of enforcement actions, discussions of technical conflicts between licensed and unlicensed stations, or strictly informational messages (such as, "A pirate station has been heard in Chicago on 104.7"). Postings that seek to support pirate stations (such as by drawing money, personnel, equipment, or listeners) will not be approved.

2.7 Moderation policies

Questions or complaints about moderation decisions or policies will not be permitted in the newsgroup itself. Please direct any such feedback to the moderators by sending us a message at rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

If you see an obviously inappropriate article in our newsgroup, please assume that it was a mistake or a direct forgery, and do not send follow-up postings. You may submit feedback to the administrative address regarding such articles, although it is likely that our monitoring software and procedures have already detected the problem and we are actively handling it.

3. NETIQUETTE

3.1 Introduction to Usenet netiquette

Participants who are new to Usenet should familiarize themselves with the "netiquette" of Usenet as well as the particular posting guidelines for this group. Several useful posts for "newbies" can be found on the newsgroup news.announce.newusers or on the World

Wide Web at:

http://www.faqs.org/faqs/by-newsgroup/news/news.announce.newusers.html

Particularly helpful articles are:

- Welcome to Usenet!
- Rules for posting to Usenet
- Hints on writing style for Usenet
- A Primer on How to Work With the Usenet Community
- Emily Postnews Answers Your Questions on Netiquette
- Answers to Frequently Asked Questions about Usenet

3.2 Civility

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to state their own views and share their experiences enthusiastically. However, in doing so, you should maintain a civil tone in all postings and treat other people respectfully.

You are welcome to criticize someone else's actions, but such criticism must not degrade into a personal attack or name-calling. To be safe, refrain from making assumptions about the motivations of other people. For example, "That's a lie" implies an intentional prevarication, and "So-and-so is a liar" is name-calling. Instead, say "That's not true, because...," or "I think that So-and-so is wrong because..."

Making fun of someone's name or refusing to refer to them by their proper name is also a violation of this guideline. In cases where someone uses a different on-air name, please use that name unless they have specifically said that it's all right to refer to them publicly by their real name.

Note that this guideline covers everyone you talk about in your postings, whether they are participants in this group or not.

3.3 Posting form

Any article that falls into any of the following categories will be automatically rejected:

A) Articles that contain original text of more than 75 characters per line (except for URLs; see sections 3.7 and 3.8)
B) Articles that are crossposted other than as described in section 4.1)
C) Articles that contain more than 400 lines
D) Postings that contain attachments (except short .sig files; see section 3.6)
E) Postings that include encoded binary files (except PGP and other short digital signatures)

F) Articles containing obscene language
G) Articles from individuals who have been suspended or banned from the newsgroup
H) Articles that consist mostly of direct quotation from copyrighted sources (also see section 3.7)

3.4 Excessive quoting

Posters must show a reasonable effort to trim the post they are replying to. Replies should include just enough of the original material to establish a context for your own comments.

Posts more than 20 lines long that have more than 50% quoted text will be carefully reviewed by a moderator to determine whether that degree of quoting is warranted. Posts with excessive quoted text may be rejected.

IMPORTANT: If you use a newsreader (such as Google Groups) that allows you to hide the posting to which you are replying, you must unhide the quoted text and trim it appropriately. Also be certain that your newsreader is not configured to automatically append the previous article to the bottom of your postings. All participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are responsible for using their newsreaders properly to comply with the group's posting guidelines.

"Me too!" posts are discouraged. If you do post such a message, you must edit the quoted material significantly.

3.5 Pseudonyms

Contributors to rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to use their real (given or on-air) names. This not only creates a greater sense of community in the newsgroup, it also lends credibility to posters' opinions. However, as a pragmatic concession to the realities of the present-day Internet, and consistent with the practices of other moderated newsgroups, pseudonyms and unroutable email address are permitted with some restrictions.

We ask that the From: lines of submitted articles not misrepresent your identity, not be changed often, and not match a user or domain name other than your own (spoofing). Postings that have a pseudonym that violates any of our other rules (such as civility) will be rejected.

Please realize that if you use an unroutable email address, you will not be able to receive acknowledgment or rejection messages for your submitted articles. If one of your articles was rejected and you are unable to receive the notice that explains the rejection, you will need to send a note to the moderation team for clarification.

3.6 Signature files

Many people close each article they write with a few lines of common text. This may be a clever quote, contact information, or disclaimer required by their employer. Signature (.sig) files attached to rec.radio.broadcasting postings must be no longer than four lines plus a standard delimiter (such as two dashes).

The content of a poster's signature need not be relevant to broadcasting, but it must not violate any of the other posting guidelines. (For example, name-calling that would not be acceptable in the body of a message is also unacceptable in a signature.) Posters may include Uniform Resource Locators (URLs) and business addresses in signature files, provided they comply with all the other guidelines regarding signatures.

3.7 Use of copyrighted material

Unless you own the copyright yourself or have the written permission of the copyright owner (either of which must be so stated), do not post copyrighted material such as newspaper articles to rec.radio.broadcasting. Instead, post a synopsis of the material with a link to the full article. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing.

Quoting of public domain information, such as radio station information from the FCC database, is fine.

3.8 Pointers to outside sources

Unsolicited announcements and pointers to web sites that are exclusively advertisements or other public relations campaigns are not permitted. However, a pointer to a website or other external source of information is permitted and encouraged in cases where it is relevant to an existing thread, with appropriate context being given in the post.

A URL with no information about what a user should expect to find there will be rejected. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing. Also, we prefer full URLs instead of (or in addition to) ones that have been modified by a link shortener so that readers of the posting will know which website they are actually going to. If you do use a link shortener, please also indicate the full name of the website to which you are linking.

A pointer to information that is off-charter for rec.radio.broadcasting will be rejected, as will a pointer which itself does not meet the rec.radio.broadcasting guidelines (such as a URL containing name-calling).

Moderators are not responsible for verifying the contents of any external information source. Moderators only review submissions for adherence to the RRB guidelines, such as appropriateness of topic and Usenet etiquette.

4. TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES

4.1 Crossposting

A limited amount of appropriate simultaneous crossposting will be permitted at the discretion of the moderation team. Appropriate crossposted newsgroups could include rec.radio.noncomm, ba.broadcast, ba.broadcast.moderated, or alt.radio.broadcasting. Currently, a limit of 3 newsgroups total is enforced by our moderation software.

Please note that, because of the way moderated Usenet groups work, any posting submitted to a moderated group will not be forwarded to any other groups until it is accepted by the initial group. For example, if you submit a posting to both RRB and BAB, and we reject it, it will never appear on BAB.

4.2 Valid "From" address

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting may, if they wish, use an invalid or "munged" email address in their "From" header line. However, please be aware that if you do so, you will be unable to receive messages from the moderators, such as requests to revise submitted postings or explanations of why postings were rejected.

Also, we want rec.radio.broadcasting to promote interaction among participants, and in some cases, information is more appropriately relayed off-list. If you do not provide a valid email address, other posters will not be able to send you information, ask questions, etc. Therefore, if you are considering using an invalid "From" address in order to avoid spam email, we recommend that you instead (1) find an ISP with robust spam-filtering for incoming email, and/or (2) obtain an email address just for your Usenet postings (e.g. from Yahoo or Gmail).

4.3 Lost or rejected postings

We never reject anything in silence, and we make a point to answer all our mail. However, newsgroup postings can and do get lost every now and again.

If you send us a posting and you neither see it in RRB nor hear from us directly within two or three days, you can be pretty sure that either your mail never reached us, or that our answer never reached you. (See section 4.2 for why the latter might happen.) In that case, please submit your article again. (We will filter out duplicates.) You're also welcome to send a note to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com if you have any concerns about your submissions not being received.

If you have any questions or comments about these guidelines, please send a message to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

(Adapted from the rec.radio.amateur.moderated posting guidelines and from Bill Pfeiffer's original RRB guidelines and FAQ.)

Welcome to any new RRB readers from Jupiter! The moderation team will be discussing revisions to the group's guidelines (such as replacing "worldwide" with "solar system-wide") so that you don't feel that you aren't wanted here...

Patty

p.s. I hope the emissions in question were intended for domestic (in this case, jovian) reception only, as we do not allow discussions of international (or, by extension, interplanetary) broadcasts here.
Thanks for understanding!

Crawford Broadcasting has announced the purchase of 970 WNED Buffalo from Western New York Public Broadcasting for $875,000. The 970 signal has been redundant for WNYPB since they acquired 88.7 WBFO from the University of Buffalo earlier this year and merged the programming of News 970 with 88.7. WNYPB will continue to own and operate [...]

After signing on this past March, the programming of Townsquare Media Urban Hot 99.1 W256BU Albany NY looks to be on the way towards getting an upgrade to a full powered signal in the market. Townsquare registered Hot1057Albany.com and Crush991Albany.com on Monday. That would lead to a frequency swap with Hot 99.1 shifting to what [...]

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Invitation to participate

The moderators of rec.radio.broadcasting (RRB) invite the participation of broadcast professionals and non-professionals alike. Both the people who operate radio stations and the people who listen to them have valuable insights into the art, business, and/or science of broadcasting.

1.2 Charter

Rec.radio broadcasting is intended as a worldwide forum dedicated to the discussion of subjects pertaining to domestic radio broadcasting. By the term "domestic," we mean radio which is intended basically for reception within the country in which it originates. Other Usenet groups are available for discussing international broadcast services.

1.3 How to submit articles

You can use your newsreading software to submit an article to rec.radio.broadcasting as you would to any other newsgroup. The only difference is that your news server will automatically forward your article to the moderation team instead of posting it directly to the group. Alternatively, you can email submissions to rec-radio-broadcasting@panix.com. We generally turn around articles at least the same day, usually much faster.

2. ACCEPTABLE AND UNACCEPTABLE TOPICS

If you are ever unsure about whether a proposed topic is appropriate for RRB, please feel free to ask the moderation team at:

rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com

2.1 Newsgroup focus

RRB is designed to provide a public forum for professional and informed discussion and dissemination of information pertaining to the art, business, and science of radio broadcasting. By "professional and informed," we mean discussions by broadcast professionals as well as those with a serious interest in radio broadcasting. As mentioned in the Introduction, we welcome the participation of radio listeners as well as those inside the industry.

RRB is an international newsgroup, so the term "domestic" should not be taken to imply just the United States or North America. Readers in other nations are encouraged to post questions and comments about their own country's radio stations.

2.2 Examples of acceptable topics

Generally, if a subject would be of interest to broadcast professionals or listeners, it is acceptable. Here are just a few ideas for discussion topics:

* New stations and changes to existing stations (but see section 2.6 for limitations on discussions of unlicensed stations)
* Formats and programming
* Equipment and techniques involved in the transmission and reception of broadcast radio signals
* Other engineering and technical matters
* Domestic broadcast-band DXing
* Community broadcasting
* Legislation affecting radio stations
* Radio's current and future trends
* Job openings and help to those seeking work in the industry

If you post about a local radio station or personality, please realize that most RRB readers will know little or nothing about that station or person, so please include a little background to set the context for your remarks.

2.3 Examples of unacceptable topics

This is not a comprehensive list. Please contact the moderation team if you aren't sure whether your proposed topic is appropriate or not.

* Non-domestic stations and activities (BBC World, Voice of America, SWLing, etc.)
* Non-broadcast radio services (amateur, Internet, satellite, etc.)
* Television broadcasting (except on rare occasions when the subject of the posting would also be of broad interest to radio people).

2.4 Programming discussions

Because the intent of RRB is to foster discussion, postings of a primarily promotional nature should be kept to a minimum. Program hosts and other interested parties are welcome to submit brief notices about special guests, fill-in hosts, etc. However, playlists, weekly program schedules, and similar listings should instead be posted in a more appropriate venue, such as the station's or host's website.

Reviews of the performance of on-air personalities are fine, but please note that rec.radio.broadcasting is not the place to discuss the topics of radio talk shows. (Unless the topic itself is the art, science, or business of radio broadcasting.)

Postings about broadcasters' off-air activities should usually be confined to events that are that are related to their broadcast career, such as personal appearances on behalf of their station. Exceptions will be made for extraordinary events such as a broadcaster's death.

2.5 Commercial postings

Businesses and individuals today have a wealth of online selling venues--both general sites such as eBay and Craigslist, and region-specific Usenet groups such as ba.broadcast and uk.tech.broadcast. Therefore, RRB may not be the most effective place to post your for-sale ad. It's best when you want to offer an item that's likely to be of interest to broadcasters or radio fans over a broad geographical area. Please consider the alternatives before submitting your posting to RRB.

Examples of suitable for-sale postings might include, "My station just got a new mixer and is selling its old Acme Model 100; please contact me directly for details," or "I just found a box of KHJ aircheck tapes in my basement; drop me a note if you're interested in buying them."

For-sale message must solicit responses directly to the poster; do not direct readers to another site such as Craigslist or eBay.

Notices about especially important or interesting new products are fine. Please disclose whether or not you have a financial interest in the manufacturer or reseller you're mentioning.

Each poster to RRB is allowed one commercial posting per month.

Postings about job openings are welcomed. Be sure to include your real name, company name, and valid contact information (email address, phone number, or mailing address).

2.6 Pirate radio

Postings about unlicensed domestic radio operations should be limited to discussions of their history, notices of enforcement actions, discussions of technical conflicts between licensed and unlicensed stations, or strictly informational messages (such as, "A pirate station has been heard in Chicago on 104.7"). Postings that seek to support pirate stations (such as by drawing money, personnel, equipment, or listeners) will not be approved.

2.7 Moderation policies

Questions or complaints about moderation decisions or policies will not be permitted in the newsgroup itself. Please direct any such feedback to the moderators by sending us a message at rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

If you see an obviously inappropriate article in our newsgroup, please assume that it was a mistake or a direct forgery, and do not send follow-up postings. You may submit feedback to the administrative address regarding such articles, although it is likely that our monitoring software and procedures have already detected the problem and we are actively handling it.

3. NETIQUETTE

3.1 Introduction to Usenet netiquette

Participants who are new to Usenet should familiarize themselves with the "netiquette" of Usenet as well as the particular posting guidelines for this group. Several useful posts for "newbies" can be found on the newsgroup news.announce.newusers or on the World Wide Web at:

http://www.faqs.org/faqs/by-newsgroup/news/news.announce.newusers.html

Particularly helpful articles are:

3.2 Civility

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to state their own views and share their experiences enthusiastically. However, in doing so, you should maintain a civil tone in all postings and treat other people respectfully.

You are welcome to criticize someone else's actions, but such criticism must not degrade into a personal attack or name-calling. To be safe, refrain from making assumptions about the motivations of other people. For example, "That's a lie" implies an intentional prevarication, and "So-and-so is a liar" is name-calling. Instead, say "That's not true, because...," or "I think that So-and-so is wrong because..."

Making fun of someone's name or refusing to refer to them by their proper name is also a violation of this guideline. In cases where someone uses a different on-air name, please use that name unless they have specifically said that it's all right to refer to them publicly by their real name.

Note that this guideline covers everyone you talk about in your postings, whether they are participants in this group or not.

3.3 Posting form

Any article that falls into any of the following categories will be automatically rejected:

A) Articles that contain original text of more than 75 characters per line (except for URLs; see sections 3.7 and 3.8)
B) Articles that are crossposted other than as described in section 4.1)
C) Articles that contain more than 400 lines
D) Postings that contain attachments (except short .sig files; see section 3.6)
E) Postings that include encoded binary files (except PGP and other short digital signatures)
F) Articles containing obscene language
G) Articles from individuals who have been suspended or banned from the newsgroup
H) Articles that consist mostly of direct quotation from copyrighted sources (also see section 3.7)

3.4 Excessive quoting

Posters must show a reasonable effort to trim the post they are replying to. Replies should include just enough of the original material to establish a context for your own comments.

Posts more than 20 lines long that have more than 50% quoted text will be carefully reviewed by a moderator to determine whether that degree of quoting is warranted. Posts with excessive quoted text may be rejected.

IMPORTANT: If you use a newsreader (such as Google Groups) that allows you to hide the posting to which you are replying, you must unhide the quoted text and trim it appropriately. Also be certain that your newsreader is not configured to automatically append the previous article to the bottom of your postings. All participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are responsible for using their newsreaders properly to comply with the group's posting guidelines.

"Me too!" posts are discouraged. If you do post such a message, you must edit the quoted material significantly.

3.5 Pseudonyms

Contributors to rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to use their real (given or on-air) names. This not only creates a greater sense of community in the newsgroup, it also lends credibility to posters' opinions. However, as a pragmatic concession to the realities of the present-day Internet, and consistent with the practices of other moderated newsgroups, pseudonyms and unroutable email address are permitted with some restrictions.

We ask that the From: lines of submitted articles not misrepresent your identity, not be changed often, and not match a user or domain name other than your own (spoofing). Postings that have a pseudonym that violates any of our other rules (such as civility) will be rejected.

Please realize that if you use an unroutable email address, you will not be able to receive acknowledgment or rejection messages for your submitted articles. If one of your articles was rejected and you are unable to receive the notice that explains the rejection, you will need to send a note to the moderation team for clarification.

3.6 Signature files

Many people close each article they write with a few lines of common text. This may be a clever quote, contact information, or disclaimer required by their employer. Signature (.sig) files attached to rec.radio.broadcasting postings must be no longer than four lines plus a standard delimiter (such as two dashes).

The content of a poster's signature need not be relevant to broadcasting, but it must not violate any of the other posting guidelines. (For example, name-calling that would not be acceptable in the body of a message is also unacceptable in a signature.) Posters may include Uniform Resource Locators (URLs) and business addresses in signature files, provided they comply with all the other guidelines regarding signatures.

3.7 Use of copyrighted material

Unless you own the copyright yourself or have the written permission of the copyright owner (either of which must be so stated), do not post copyrighted material such as newspaper articles to rec.radio.broadcasting. Instead, post a synopsis of the material with a link to the full article. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing.

Quoting of public domain information, such as radio station information from the FCC database, is fine.

3.8 Pointers to outside sources

Unsolicited announcements and pointers to web sites that are exclusively advertisements or other public relations campaigns are not permitted. However, a pointer to a website or other external source of information is permitted and encouraged in cases where it is relevant to an existing thread, with appropriate context being given in the post.

A URL with no information about what a user should expect to find there will be rejected. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing. Also, we prefer full URLs instead of (or in addition to) ones that have been modified by a link shortener so that readers of the posting will know which website they are actually going to. If you do use a link shortener, please also indicate the full name of the website to which you are linking.

A pointer to information that is off-charter for rec.radio.broadcasting will be rejected, as will a pointer which itself does not meet the rec.radio.broadcasting guidelines (such as a URL containing name-calling).

Moderators are not responsible for verifying the contents of any external information source. Moderators only review submissions for adherence to the RRB guidelines, such as appropriateness of topic and Usenet etiquette.

4. TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES

4.1 Crossposting

A limited amount of appropriate simultaneous crossposting will be permitted at the discretion of the moderation team. Appropriate crossposted newsgroups could include rec.radio.noncomm, ba.broadcast, ba.broadcast.moderated, or alt.radio.broadcasting. Currently, a limit of 3 newsgroups total is enforced by our moderation software.

Please note that, because of the way moderated Usenet groups work, any posting submitted to a moderated group will not be forwarded to any other groups until it is accepted by the initial group. For example, if you submit a posting to both RRB and BAB, and we reject it, it will never appear on BAB.

4.2 Valid "From" address

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting may, if they wish, use an invalid or "munged" email address in their "From" header line. However, please be aware that if you do so, you will be unable to receive messages from the moderators, such as requests to revise submitted postings or explanations of why postings were rejected.

Also, we want rec.radio.broadcasting to promote interaction among participants, and in some cases, information is more appropriately relayed off-list. If you do not provide a valid email address, other posters will not be able to send you information, ask questions, etc. Therefore, if you are considering using an invalid "From" address in order to avoid spam email, we recommend that you instead (1) find an ISP with robust spam-filtering for incoming email, and/or (2) obtain an email address just for your Usenet postings (e.g. from Yahoo or Gmail).

4.3 Lost or rejected postings

We never reject anything in silence, and we make a point to answer all our mail. However, newsgroup postings can and do get lost every now and again.

If you send us a posting and you neither see it in RRB nor hear from us directly within two or three days, you can be pretty sure that either your mail never reached us, or that our answer never reached you. (See section 4.2 for why the latter might happen.) In that case, please submit your article again. (We will filter out duplicates.) You're also welcome to send a note to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com if you have any concerns about your submissions not being received.

--------------------------------------------------------------

If you have any questions or comments about these guidelines, please send a message to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

(Adapted from the rec.radio.amateur.moderated posting guidelines and from Bill Pfeiffer's original RRB guidelines and FAQ.)

Following tips from posters on other broadcast-radio-related newsgroups that Best Buy house brand Insignia had several models of HD radio receivers at low prices ($99), I went to the Best Buy web site.  Don't bother searching for "HD Radio" as that only seems to return automobile head units.  Instead, search for "Insignia HD".  Four models were returned, one with a CD player and iPod dock for $99, a clock radio model for $99 that also supports Radio Reader services, a Walkman-style armband radio with rechargeable battery for $49, and a small FM-only table radio for $49.

The small table radio (Model "NS-HDRAD") was the one that caught my attention, having apparently been introduced this summer of 2012 according to other on-line reviews.  Several local Best Buy stores had it in stock for same-day pickup according to the web site, so I headed to the nearest one.  Don't bother looking for it on the shelf.  The saleperson couldn't immediately find it either, but eventually tracked down the one that they had in stock (not sure if it was in the back, or just hidden/miscategorized on the sales floor, as I wasn't following closely).

Previous HD radios were expensive and power-hungry.  In addition to a relatively low price, this one appears to run cool, and off of a low-current DC adapter or 4 AA batteries.  No long-term experience with battery life yet.

The radio has an "HD scan" feature, and scanned to each available HD subchannel (HD1 and HD2).  Even here in Omaha, Nebraska, there were enough HD subchannels to fill up at least half of the available 20 presets.  They included:

KVNO 90.7 (University of Nebraska at Omaha, Public, Classical): HD1 digital copy of main channel, HD2 "Maverick Radio" which runs alternate programming, including campus sports when basketball and hockey are playing at the same time

KEZO 92.3 (Album Rock) : HD1 digital copy of main channel, HD2 ESPN Sports Center (may be simulcast of ESPN Radio from AM 690)

KGOR 99.1 (Oldies): HD1 digital copy of main channel, HD2 "Older" Oldies (appears to be a syndicated format with top-of-the-hour local ID's mixed in)

KXKT 103.7 (Country): HD1 digital copy of main channel, HD2 "Younger" Country

Based on the above sample, the programming choices for HD2 channels in Omaha appear to one of: off-loading of similar programming that cannot all fit on one channel, simulcasting of an AM outlet on FM, or slight tweaks to main formats to reach narrower audiences.

Reception within the A service contours, about 10 miles from the transmitters, seems good.  The tuner will attempt to tune the HD1 signal first, and take a few seconds to lock up.  Drop-outs on signal occurred only on the weaker stations (like KVNO) for brief periods.  Adjusting the whip antenna seemed to make them mostly go away.  The radio seems to avoid the analog <-> digital fallback "whiplash" with the associated time delays between the two signals.  Stations that are analog only, or where the HD subchannels are not strong enough to be receivable, will be directly tuned to the analog channel.

Since I already own several receivers, including a couple of Superradios (II and III), XM satellite (SkyFi), and a Logitech "SqueezeBox" for Internet audio streaming, I find that the advantage of this Insignia HD model would be its small, portable size and providing additional programming that does not require a paid subscription, Internet connection, or even AC wall power, such as for in-the-office or on-the-go.  Reception and audio quality seem reasonable in a non-challenging reception environment close to transmitters and in a smaller market with a more lightly loaded FM band.

Pros: Relatively low price (for HD), small size, battery power option, HD scan feature, large number of presets (20), built-in whip antenna and external antenna jack, AUX input jack, headphone jack, bright display readable even in direct sunlight, reasonably sane fallback tuning protocol (digital, then analog) that seems to avoid whiplash and time delays, reasonable reception with "small table radio" fidelity and audio clarity

Cons: Plastic case feels cheap, tuning is only by pre-sets or up/down buttons (no tuning knob), unit is stereo but speakers are only about 6-8 inches apart, no AM, no apparent way to tune the analog channel when HD is present, not well marketed or merchandised by Best Buy, stocked in limited and hard-to-find quantities in-store, still somewhat expensive relative to a comparable analog radio

I would also love to find Mike McCormick/Jim Hankins.  A truly spectacular radio guy who absolutely loved rock and roll.  As I recall, his favorite song was "Johnny Be Good."  He was way, way, way, way ahead of his time.

Patty and Denny (I think his beautiful little baby daughter's name) were adorable. Patty - 5'4", Mike 6'6", but a totally wonderful couple.

I would love to hear from them.

Would you believe that 87 year old Art Laboe, the founder of the "Oldies But Goodies" oldies record label, and longtime Southern California DJ and promoter is STILL doing a regular DJ show and promoting shows? I remember listening to him on XERB growing up here in the Bay Area.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Art_Laboe

It was funny; my mom bought me some of Art Laboe's "Oldes But Goodies" albums in the 1960s and the songs had familiar titles, but the songs were sung by different people! It was years later that I learned that many of the songs I grew up with were white cover versions of earlier ones done by black and Italian doo wop singers.

Excerpts:

"I took the time to look at the Facebook pages of all fourteen commercial stations licensed to the market, as well as the leading non-commercial (in this case, religious, not educational or community) station in the market, and was horrified by what I saw.

"Of the fifteen total stations that I checked on, six of them - 40%- NEVER MADE A MENTION OF THE ALERT, PERIOD. 40% of the market's radio stations failed to due [sic] their federally-mandated duties as trustees of the public airwaves. 40% of the market's radio stations failed that time-tested advice of 'Protect the license of the radio station'."

While spreading the word of a child abduction via a radio station's Facebook or Twitter page is a great idea, I was not aware that the FCC looked upon such actions as a requirement of the station's license. The person who wrote this op-ed piece never said anything about listening to the stations. For all we know, the local news/talk station that he/she chides later in the article might have been all over the story on the air.

The current Radiolab podcast (and possibly the broadcast) is titled "The Fact of the Matter" and contains several stories on the meaning of truth. The second segment is a mind-blowing segment about the "yellow rain" that the Hmong tribe of Vietnam say killed entire villages.  The U.S. blamed the Soviet Union.  The truth is very strange and calls into question: What happens when three mutually exclusive things are true at the same time, especially if you have hinged your entire life experience on a truth that may be false?  http://www.radiolab.org  I'm not sure of the air schedule, but Radiolab airs on KALW 91.7 and KQED Radio 88.5.

It amazes that in 2012, there can still be times where a format change will go unnoticed and unreported anywhere for over two weeks. One such change occurred on September 13, when Brazos Communications West flipped Variety Hits 95.1 Bob-FM KQRX Midland, TX to Active Rock Rock 95.1. --------------------------------------------------------------

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Invitation to participate

The moderators of rec.radio.broadcasting (RRB) invite the participation of broadcast professionals and non-professionals alike. Both the people who operate radio stations and the people who listen to them have valuable insights into the art, business, and/or science of broadcasting.

1.2 Charter

Rec.radio broadcasting is intended as a worldwide forum dedicated to the discussion of subjects pertaining to domestic radio broadcasting. By the term "domestic," we mean radio which is intended basically for reception within the country in which it originates. Other Usenet groups are available for discussing international broadcast services.

1.3 How to submit articles

You can use your newsreading software to submit an article to rec.radio.broadcasting as you would to any other newsgroup. The only difference is that your news server will automatically forward your article to the moderation team instead of posting it directly to the group. Alternatively, you can email submissions to rec-radio-broadcasting@panix.com. We generally turn around articles at least the same day, usually much faster.

--------------------------------------------------------------

2. ACCEPTABLE AND UNACCEPTABLE TOPICS

If you are ever unsure about whether a proposed topic is appropriate for RRB, please feel free to ask the moderation team at:

rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com

2.1 Newsgroup focus

RRB is designed to provide a public forum for professional and informed discussion and dissemination of information pertaining to the art, business, and science of radio broadcasting. By "professional and informed," we mean discussions by broadcast professionals as well as those with a serious interest in radio broadcasting. As mentioned in the Introduction, we welcome the participation of radio listeners as well as those inside the industry.

RRB is an international newsgroup, so the term "domestic" should not be taken to imply just the United States or North America. Readers in other nations are encouraged to post questions and comments about their own country's radio stations.

2.2 Examples of acceptable topics

Generally, if a subject would be of interest to broadcast professionals or listeners, it is acceptable. Here are just a few ideas for discussion topics:

* New stations and changes to existing stations (but see section 2.6 for limitations on discussions of unlicensed stations)
* Formats and programming
* Equipment and techniques involved in the transmission and reception of broadcast radio signals
* Other engineering and technical matters
* Domestic broadcast-band DXing
* Community broadcasting
* Legislation affecting radio stations
* Radio's current and future trends
* Job openings and help to those seeking work in the industry

If you post about a local radio station or personality, please realize that most RRB readers will know little or nothing about that station or person, so please include a little background to set the context for your remarks.

2.3 Examples of unacceptable topics

This is not a comprehensive list. Please contact the moderation team if you aren't sure whether your proposed topic is appropriate or not.

* Non-domestic stations and activities (BBC World, Voice of America, SWLing, etc.)
* Non-broadcast radio services (amateur, Internet, satellite, etc.)
* Television broadcasting (except on rare occasions when the subject of the posting would also be of broad interest to radio people).

2.4 Programming discussions

Because the intent of RRB is to foster discussion, postings of a primarily promotional nature should be kept to a minimum. Program hosts and other interested parties are welcome to submit brief notices about special guests, fill-in hosts, etc. However, playlists, weekly program schedules, and similar listings should instead be posted in a more appropriate venue, such as the station's or host's website.

Reviews of the performance of on-air personalities are fine, but please note that rec.radio.broadcasting is not the place to discuss the topics of radio talk shows. (Unless the topic itself is the art, science, or business of radio broadcasting.)

Postings about broadcasters' off-air activities should usually be confined to events that are that are related to their broadcast career, such as personal appearances on behalf of their station. Exceptions will be made for extraordinary events such as a broadcaster's death.

2.5 Commercial postings

Businesses and individuals today have a wealth of online selling venues--both general sites such as eBay and Craigslist, and region-specific Usenet groups such as ba.broadcast and uk.tech.broadcast. Therefore, RRB may not be the most effective place to post your for-sale ad. It's best when you want to offer an item that's likely to be of interest to broadcasters or radio fans over a broad geographical area. Please consider the alternatives before submitting your posting to RRB.

Examples of suitable for-sale postings might include, "My station just got a new mixer and is selling its old Acme Model 100; please contact me directly for details," or "I just found a box of KHJ aircheck tapes in my basement; drop me a note if you're interested in buying them."

For-sale message must solicit responses directly to the poster; do not direct readers to another site such as Craigslist or eBay.

Notices about especially important or interesting new products are fine. Please disclose whether or not you have a financial interest in the manufacturer or reseller you're mentioning.

Each poster to RRB is allowed one commercial posting per month.

Postings about job openings are welcomed. Be sure to include your real name, company name, and valid contact information (email address, phone number, or mailing address).

2.6 Pirate radio

Postings about unlicensed domestic radio operations should be limited to discussions of their history, notices of enforcement actions, discussions of technical conflicts between licensed and unlicensed stations, or strictly informational messages (such as, "A pirate station has been heard in Chicago on 104.7"). Postings that seek to support pirate stations (such as by drawing money, personnel, equipment, or listeners) will not be approved.

2.7 Moderation policies

Questions or complaints about moderation decisions or policies will not be permitted in the newsgroup itself. Please direct any such feedback to the moderators by sending us a message at rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

If you see an obviously inappropriate article in our newsgroup, please assume that it was a mistake or a direct forgery, and do not send follow-up postings. You may submit feedback to the administrative address regarding such articles, although it is likely that our monitoring software and procedures have already detected the problem and we are actively handling it.

3. NETIQUETTE

3.1 Introduction to Usenet netiquette

Participants who are new to Usenet should familiarize themselves with the "netiquette" of Usenet as well as the particular posting guidelines for this group. Several useful posts for "newbies" can be found on the newsgroup news.announce.newusers or on the World Wide Web at:

http://www.faqs.org/faqs/by-newsgroup/news/
news.announce.newusers.html

Particularly helpful articles are:

- Welcome to Usenet!
- Rules for posting to Usenet
- Hints on writing style for Usenet
- A Primer on How to Work With the Usenet Community
- Emily Postnews Answers Your Questions on Netiquette
- Answers to Frequently Asked Questions about Usenet

3.2 Civility

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to state their own views and share their experiences enthusiastically. However, in doing so, you should maintain a civil tone in all postings and treat other people respectfully.

You are welcome to criticize someone else's actions, but such criticism must not degrade into a personal attack or name-calling. To be safe, refrain from making assumptions about the motivations of other people. For example, "That's a lie" implies an intentional prevarication, and "So-and-so is a liar" is name-calling. Instead, say "That's not true, because...," or "I think that So-and-so is wrong because..."

Making fun of someone's name or refusing to refer to them by their proper name is also a violation of this guideline. In cases where someone uses a different on-air name, please use that name unless they have specifically said that it's all right to refer to them publicly by their real name.

Note that this guideline covers everyone you talk about in your postings, whether they are participants in this group or not.

3.3 Posting form

Any article that falls into any of the following categories will be automatically rejected:

A) Articles that contain original text of more than 75 characters per line (except for URLs; see sections 3.7 and 3.8)
B) Articles that are crossposted other than as described in section 4.1)
C) Articles that contain more than 400 lines
D) Postings that contain attachments (except short .sig files; see section 3.6)
E) Postings that include encoded binary files (except PGP and other short digital signatures)
F) Articles containing obscene language
G) Articles from individuals who have been suspended or banned from the newsgroup
H) Articles that consist mostly of direct quotation from copyrighted sources (also see section 3.7)

3.4 Excessive quoting

Posters must show a reasonable effort to trim the post they are replying to. Replies should include just enough of the original material to establish a context for your own comments.

Posts more than 20 lines long that have more than 50% quoted text will be carefully reviewed by a moderator to determine whether that degree of quoting is warranted. Posts with excessive quoted text may be rejected.

IMPORTANT: If you use a newsreader (such as Google Groups) that allows you to hide the posting to which you are replying, you must unhide the quoted text and trim it appropriately. Also be certain that your newsreader is not configured to automatically append the previous article to the bottom of your postings. All participants in rec.radio.broadcasting are responsible for using their newsreaders properly to comply with the group's posting guidelines.

"Me too!" posts are discouraged. If you do post such a message, you must edit the quoted material significantly.

3.5 Pseudonyms

Contributors to rec.radio.broadcasting are encouraged to use their real (given or on-air) names. This not only creates a greater sense of community in the newsgroup, it also lends credibility to posters' opinions. However, as a pragmatic concession to the realities of the present-day Internet, and consistent with the practices of other moderated newsgroups, pseudonyms and unroutable email address are permitted with some restrictions.

We ask that the From: lines of submitted articles not misrepresent your identity, not be changed often, and not match a user or domain name other than your own (spoofing). Postings that have a pseudonym that violates any of our other rules (such as civility) will be rejected.

Please realize that if you use an unroutable email address, you will not be able to receive acknowledgment or rejection messages for your submitted articles. If one of your articles was rejected and you are unable to receive the notice that explains the rejection, you will need to send a note to the moderation team for clarification.

3.6 Signature files

Many people close each article they write with a few lines of common text. This may be a clever quote, contact information, or disclaimer required by their employer. Signature (.sig) files attached to rec.radio.broadcasting postings must be no longer than four lines plus a standard delimiter (such as two dashes).

The content of a poster's signature need not be relevant to broadcasting, but it must not violate any of the other posting guidelines. (For example, name-calling that would not be acceptable in the body of a message is also unacceptable in a signature.) Posters may include Uniform Resource Locators (URLs) and business addresses in signature files, provided they comply with all the other guidelines regarding signatures.

3.7 Use of copyrighted material

Unless you own the copyright yourself or have the written permission of the copyright owner (either of which must be so stated), do not post copyrighted material such as newspaper articles to rec.radio.broadcasting. Instead, post a synopsis of the material with a link to the full article. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing.

Quoting of public domain information, such as radio station information from the FCC database, is fine.

3.8 Pointers to outside sources

Unsolicited announcements and pointers to web sites that are exclusively advertisements or other public relations campaigns are not permitted. However, a pointer to a website or other external source of information is permitted and encouraged in cases where it is relevant to an existing thread, with appropriate context being given in the post.

A URL with no information about what a user should expect to find there will be rejected. If you are posting a link to a blog or other site where information changes frequently, please use a "permalink" to the exact article you're citing. Also, we prefer full URLs instead of (or in addition to) ones that have been modified by a link shortener so that readers of the posting will know which website they are actually going to. If you do use a link shortener, please also indicate the full name of the website to which you are linking.

A pointer to information that is off-charter for rec.radio.broadcasting will be rejected, as will a pointer which itself does not meet the rec.radio.broadcasting guidelines (such as a URL containing name-calling).

Moderators are not responsible for verifying the contents of any external information source. Moderators only review submissions for adherence to the RRB guidelines, such as appropriateness of topic and Usenet etiquette.

4. TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE ISSUES

4.1 Crossposting

A limited amount of appropriate simultaneous crossposting will be permitted at the discretion of the moderation team. Appropriate crossposted newsgroups could include rec.radio.noncomm, ba.broadcast, ba.broadcast.moderated, or alt.radio.broadcasting.

Currently, a limit of 3 newsgroups total is enforced by our moderation software.

Please note that, because of the way moderated Usenet groups work, any posting submitted to a moderated group will not be forwarded to any other groups until it is accepted by the initial group. For example, if you submit a posting to both RRB and BAB, and we reject it, it will never appear on BAB.

4.2 Valid "From" address

Participants in rec.radio.broadcasting may, if they wish, use an invalid or "munged" email address in their "From" header line. However, please be aware that if you do so, you will be unable to receive messages from the moderators, such as requests to revise submitted postings or explanations of why postings were rejected.

Also, we want rec.radio.broadcasting to promote interaction among participants, and in some cases, information is more appropriately relayed off-list. If you do not provide a valid email address, other posters will not be able to send you information, ask questions, etc. Therefore, if you are considering using an invalid "From" address in order to avoid spam email, we recommend that you instead (1) find an ISP with robust spam-filtering for incoming email, and/or (2) obtain an email address just for your Usenet postings (e.g. from Yahoo or Gmail).

4.3 Lost or rejected postings

We never reject anything in silence, and we make a point to answer all our mail. However, newsgroup postings can and do get lost every now and again.

If you send us a posting and you neither see it in RRB nor hear from us directly within two or three days, you can be pretty sure that either your mail never reached us, or that our answer never reached you. (See section 4.2 for why the latter might happen.) In that case, please submit your article again. (We will filter out duplicates.) You're also welcome to send a note to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com if you have any concerns about your submissions not being received.

If you have any questions or comments about these guidelines, please send a message to rec-radio-broadcasting-request@panix.com.

(Adapted from the rec.radio.amateur.moderated posting guidelines and from Bill Pfeiffer's original RRB guidelines and FAQ.)

Yes and Dimension X / X Minus One and NBC University Theater of the Air are amongst my personal favorites otherwise I would not have mentioned them.

Myself and I suspect the vast majority of the readers of this newsgroup have insufficient motivation or time to draw up a definitive top ten list accurately rated according to all the criteria which you have specified.

Lists of one's favorite top tens are entirely pointless anyways, and the thing which is of interest and value to others, which you appear to be intent on squashing, is meaningful discussion of why shows should be on a top ten list.

> So do you have a list of favorites or not?

I do but not in any definitive order which you are obviously not interested in, nor why those shows would be on my list or anybody else's list.

I didn't like Richard Diamond quite as much.  But there is a huge universe of stuff out there which is more or less forgotten today and I think that is a shame.

Hmm... I don't see any posts at all in there.  I gather from the limited headers that you posted there that it's junk coming from Google Groups. You may want to talk to your usenet admin about dumping all posts from Google Groups... an increasing number of people are doing that and it pretty much eliminates all the spam.  Google's usenet service seems to be run unattended.

Well that show does not quite have the gimmick of the Dollar show with the expenses tagline, so as you no doubt concur, is more just a run of the mill detective show probably to compete with the other higher profile detective characters.

A few of the shows (just like some of the junk produced today) would be best forgotten ;)

I have recently discovered that you can download for free quite a number of the OTR shows at the Internet Archive site

<http://www.archive.ORG>

This recent discussion also brought back to mind a radio drama series which I only heard one or two episodes of from 1984 or so that was broadcast on public radio stations. After a web search I found the title "Moon Over Morocco" and the company that produced it, ZBZ. Visiting their web site I discovered that it is possible to buy the series on CD, but they are charging the exorbitant price of USD 50 for the single CD.

Other CDs on their site of other radio shows which they produced are in the USD 20 price range, which although high by todays prices for CDs is rather more reasonable for such specialist material.

But USD 50 for a single CD???

How does ZBS get it to fit on one CD?  It's nearly ten hours long.
I think the version we had at WREK came on twenty LPs.

I seriously doubt they managed to get the whole thing onto a single CD.
How much is Fourth Tower of Inverness?  That one was also a whole stack of LPs and I had to dub the intro cuts on every single one of them to cart.

Oops <red face>

I only looked at the overview page which just had (CD) under the image and the price of USD 50.

Going to the page with all the details, it is 8 audio CDs, so in fact it works out to USD 6.125 per CD which is of course very reasonable.

If I got the impression that it was one CD, I would suggest that a few other people may as well, if they just skim the page.

Yes I know, I should have checked the actual details, but when it is late and one is just doing a cursory investigation ...

> I seriously doubt they managed to get the whole thing onto a single CD.

Well they could do if it was a data CD with MP3 files.  In fact they do also offer those (320 kbps) for USD 45 which you would admit is effectively more expensive per bit.

> How much is Fourth Tower of Inverness?

6 audio CDs for USD 45.00

If you want to have a look at what it is on offer --

        <http://www.zbs.org/catalog/>

Now that I realize that the prices are for multi-CD sets, the prices are not too bad.
